

Indian firm operating Chabahar Port to invest $85 million to carry out loading, discharging of cargo

Senior port state control officer of the Chabahar Port of Iran, Sa Hashemi, on Saturday said the port's operator, an Indian company, is going to invest $85 million by bringing equipment to carry out loading and discharging at the port. "Our operator, which is an Indian company, is going to invest $85 million here by bringing some equipment to carry out loading and discharging. The Indian company has the loading and discharging responsibility of all the ships that come, all the ocean-going ships," he said
